

Cargasacchi-Jalama Vineyard, Santa Barbara. The relatively isolated Cargasacchi-Jalama Vineyard near Point Conception is the most proximate to the Pacific Ocean and also the westernmost Pinot Noir vineyard in Santa Barbara County. The vineyard lies outside and to the southwest of the Sta. Rita Hills and Santa Ynez Valley.

The nose shows cola, spice and earth. The aromatics are followed by a mouthful of velvety blackberry and dark plum. The fruit is wrapped by spicy oak and firm tannins of some length that finish with sweet leather and peppery dried berries.
